Dramatic, unconventional holes, undulating fairways, pot bunkers, and links-style greens in a variety of shapes and elevations make this one of the modern wonders of the golfing world. Fairways have been made up of four cool season grasses, namely: Rey, Kentucky Blue, Fescue and Bent, with the greens a dominant Bent.

The Links has hosted some of the most prestigious tournaments in the world, including the Presidents Cup, the SA Open Championship and the Volvo Golf Champions.

Pinnacle Point offers the golfer one of the most spectacular coastal golfing experiences imaginable. The emerald green fairways and tees provide the perfect surface for making shots and the large Bent grass greens boast some very interesting slopes for the golfer to contend with.

Risk-reward holes are a feature of Pinnacle Point, none more so than the 350-metre 8th, where brave golfers can take a tiger line route over a ravine directly at the green.

To meet the Golden Bear's uncompromising standards of golf course design and aesthetic beauty, a combination of the intense colours of the greens and fairways, together with the brilliant white river sand lining the bunkers was carefully planned, to make Pearl Valley the most visually spectacular golf course in the country.

After your round you'll visit the highly acclaimed Vrede en Lust Wine Farm. The farm is nestled at the foothills of the Simonsberg in the celebrated Franschhoek Wine Valley. The history of the farm dates back to 1688 and discloses a story of passion and pride.

We'll first visit the most south-western point of the African continent – Cape Point, discovered by Portuguese explorer Bartholomeu Dias back in 1488 on his epic voyage to India.

On his return voyage, which must have been particularly stormy, Dias laid anchor at the tip of Africa, and named it Cabo Tormentoso, or Cape of Storms.

King John of Portugal later gave it the name Cabo da Boa Esperança, or Cape of Good Hope. Today one can hop aboard the funicular and be whisked away on a scenic trip to the view site near the old lighthouse.
